Data Security and Privacy Statement

Data Security

The data that Candylio Software does store on your behalf resides on your Jira server.

Privacy

We don't have access to the logs and database-stored data. We don't track any activities of the users on your server. We only asks for logs from our customers if we need to troubleshoot any problems related to the app.

Candylio Software understands the importance of ensuring the privacy of your personally identifiable information.